(Houston, September 16, 2010) – Jumpstart Energy Services, LLC (Houston, Texas) and Invsar S.A. (Bogotá, Colombia) have entered into an agreement that authorizes Invsar as the exclusive distributor for Tigerzyme® 22-E in Colombia. Tigerzyme® 22-E is an effective enzyme surfactant fluid used for well stimulation and other IOR applications. “We are excited to be working with Invsar and will benefit from their knowledge of operators and oil production in Colombia.” (John Gray, President Jumpstart). Jumpstart anticipates additional well stimulation products to be available shortly that will expand oilfield applications.

Invsar S.A. (www.invsar.com) was founded in 2008 and actively works with Colombian oil operators to provide well stimulation and above surface treatment solutions with enzyme surfactant fluids and other IOR fluid technologies. Invsar S.A. is a holding company for several core Science and Technology businesses that seek sustainable business development focused in the Agro, Oil, Finance and Health sectors. Invsar is the administrative and financial support group which allocates resources to various business opportunities that are also socially responsible and environmentally friendly. The company’s goal is to grow businesses that benefit the country while preserving the environment.

Jumpstart Energy Services, LLC, (www.jumpstartenergyservices.com) was founded in 2007 to launch effective and economical enzyme surfactant fluids for well stimulation and IOR applications as well as above surface tank cleaning.
